EMPLOYMENT LAW ASSISTANCE

Employment laws are complex and ever-changing, putting businesses at risk for huge financial penalties as a result of non-compliance. Through our partnership with Bodman PLC, Michigan Chamber members can receive free information to protect your business and ensure compliance with current federal and state labor employment laws.

Depend on the Employment Law Assistance for access to information such as:

- New and pending labor and employment laws and decisions which significantly impact your business;
- Protecting your business against discrimination claims in such areas as sex, sexual harassment, race, handicap, age and others;
- Dealing with drugs, alcohol and substance abuse testing in the workplace;
- Maintaining a union-free workplace;
- Avoid employee lawsuits;
- Development of employee handbooks and policies;
- Affirmative action programs;
- Unions, union activity, collective bargaining and arbitration.
